Personalized Periodontal Medicine

Advancing the Health of: Your Patients Your Team Your Practice

Dr. Doug Thompson

sponsored by Blue Ridge Kois Study Group

Fri. Sat. March 8-9, 2013 at the Rock Barn Golf & Spa Conover, N.C.

This lecture is designed to introduce the practice of a “Personalized Periodontal Medicine” concept, featuring the use of salivary diagnostics. By telling patients their periodontal story you can empower them to change the end of their story! This course will demonstrate that saliva testing is a key factor in diagnosis of disease. A thorough understanding of the oral systemic link, a standardized periodontal protocol, complemented with the use of salivary diagnostics, provides an opportunity for significant professional and practice growth for your office.

Featuring a series of case studies, you will see that practicing this way is 21st century periodontal care. A complete implementation system and a systematic process, including a series of patient educational materials, will be briefly outlined and offered for purchase. Utilizing this comprehensive approach you can radically transform your practice and demonstrate to your patients your true concern for their well-being.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

- How to increase periodontal awareness of your patients and your team
- Feature case studies that show bacteria and genetic susceptibility testing (salivary diagnostics), and the benefits of both
- Key points to establish a customized written periodontal protocol
- How to relate the periodontal diagnosis to future periodontal risk
- Establish a customized periodontal plan as a long-term strategy for managing periodontal and general health

Would you like to differentiate yourself from the dental office down the street? Do you want to have healthier patients? Do opportunities for significant professional and financial growth interest you? Are you aware of the benefits of using salivary diagnostics?

Personalized Periodontal Medicine: The Future is Here! Advancing the Health of Your Patients, Your Team and Your Practice!
BIOGRAPHY

Dr. Thompson began his dental career at age 18, working as an in-house laboratory technician. He graduated from University of Michigan School of Dentistry in 1996, completed a one-year V. A. Residency Program and in 1997 began private practice in Bloomfield Hills, Michigan. Dr. Thompson has studied extensively at the Kois Center in Seattle, led by Dr. John Kois. He became a Mentor in 2005, a Clinical Instructor in 2008 and in 2011 was appointed to the Kois Center Advisory Board. Dr. Thompson believes in an inter-disciplinary treatment model and employs advanced DNA bacterial testing methods to enable early risk assessment and personalized treatment planning. He currently leads an interdisciplinary study club attended by more than 50 dentists, which has representation from all dental specialties and is focused on comprehensive treatment planning. Dr. Thompson has published an article titled: “Salivary Testing for Periodontal Disease Diagnosis and Treatment.” He is the founder of Impact Dental Solutions and can be reached at: dthompson@impactdentalsolutions.com or 877-943-7437.

Testimonials
“Doug and part of his staff came to NY to train our staff and two other offices from our tribe last fall. It was a great experience, highly worthwhile and tremendously organized. Exceeded expectations and we are getting amazing results. The protocols seamlessly fit with all we learn at The Kois Center.” Steve Acker DDS Kois Center Mentor

“Prior to coming to this course I thought “here we go again, another sales pitch” however; Dr. Thompson’s genuine passion enthusiasm, and commitment to achieving optimal overall health starting with the gateway (oral cavity) and its impact on overall proved my prior thoughts wrong.” Pamela Hartsey RDH NY

“As a Kois trained dentist I believe this course gives us a very comprehensive system for maintaining and delivering optimum periodontal health for our patients.”
